

CABINET CLEANING CARE

WE MAKE CABINETS...YOU ADD LIFE.

R.D. Henry & Company finish coatings are made with the latest technology and chosen for their durability and environmental benefits. We want to help you make your cabinetry look new longer, so here are some simple DOs and DON'Ts for your cabinetry care.

Cleaning Instructions

DUSTING

Use a soft lint-free cloth

SPILLS

Excess moisture can damage any cabinet finish; therefore, it's important to clean spills immediately. Areas around the sink, dishwasher and cabinet baseboards are more susceptible. We recommend that excess moisture and spills be cleaned up with a soft cloth and mild soap if necessary. Wipe dry with a clean soft towel.

GENERAL CLEANING

Simply wipe surface of cabinet with water and mild soap if needed. Be sure to dry thoroughly.

CAUTION

- Do not use cleaners which contain abrasives
- Do not use cleaners which contain ammonia - they may discolor
- It is always recommended that a small, inconspicuous area be tested when using any cleaner
- Avoid bearing down as this may cause burnishing

CARE

We understand that cabinets are going to get scratched and/or dented, especially if you live in your kitchen. We recommend using Tibet Almond stick (available online) for minor scratches. As this won't "fix" the scratch, it helps in blending making it less noticeable.

For significant scratches or damage, we recommend that a professional re-finisher be hired or visit the dealership in which your R.D. Henry & Company cabinets were purchased. Doing any "self repair" could void your warranty.
